To whom it may concern

In late 2008 we were looking for estimates from various flooring companies. We had several come out however often found that the individual did not have our best interest in mind. When we got to Hillcrest Laminate & Molding and met with Jared, we knew within our initial meeting that we would be using his services.

Jared was extremely knowledgeable and offered a variety of options. His opinion was well backed and did not try to sway us into any specific direction. What was most impressive is that he provide feedback on a laminate that we were considering and helped us find an alternative that would better match our home. This was also lower priced than the one we were opting for. His comment was generally if we install it and you don't like it than we didn't take good care of you. My husband and I knew immediately that he stood strong and backed his product and workmanship.

Jared also brought tile samples to the house and managed to pick the exact tile we were wanting, a perfect match to the color scheme of the home.

Once the job was completed they removed all debris and cleaned the affected area and left us with an outstanding new floor. We have had numerous compliments on how stunning the house looks with the new floor and tile and in turn we have made several referrals back to Hillcrest.

We highly recommend Hillcrest Laminate and Molding, they really understand floors and their quality of work is exceptional.
